The Employment Lawyer's Guide to the Senior Managers & Certification Regime

Talks presented by Old Square Chambers' Financial Services Team

The essential guide for employment lawyers to the recent and upcoming changes to the rules governing individual accountability in the financial services sector:

- An update on recent amendments to the Senior Managers and Certification Regime, including the Bank of England Bill 2015-16
- Key points to watch out for when acting for employers and employees caught by the new regime
- Pointers and pitfalls relating to the provision of regulatory references
- Understanding the remuneration codes – when, where and how they apply
- Whistleblowing – the new duty

To register a place, RSVP: Liane Ractliffe, ractliffe@oldsquare.co.uk or 0117 930 5116

Seminars at Old Square Chambers are free of charge, qualify for CPD points and offer high-quality training in recent legal developments and other topical issues. They are open not only to our clients but also to their colleagues and other contacts. All events are designed to be friendly and interactive. We would also be delighted if you would join us afterwards for drinks so that everyone gets a chance to meet and to talk to each other informally.
